STIPULATION - TESTIMONY OF MICHAEL S. EVERETT

Trinity Broadcasting of Florida, Inc. and Glendale Broadcasting Company now stipulate that if Michael S. Everett were called to testify, he would testify as follows:

1. The Feedback program was thirty minutes long, not one hour long as stated in Paragraph 41 of his testimony.

2. Beginning in the second quarter of 1990, the Joy program was reduced from one hour in length to thirty minutes.

3. WHFT(TV)'s normal operating schedule during the renewal period was to operate twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, except that the station was normally off the air for four hours early on Monday morning (2:00 a.m.-6:00 a.m.) for transmitter maintenance.

4. With the exception of locally produced public service announcements encouraging viewers to contribute food to the His Hand Extended Ministry, or to volunteer as Prayer Partners, WHFT(TV) could not use public service announcements unless (1) they dealt with an issue to be carried on Feedback or (2) the announcement featured a prominent person. Station personnel chose public service announcements to be run from a list of public service announcements approved by the network. Although the station personnel chose the public service announcements to be run based on the PSA's relevance to the issues ascertained in Miami, Mr. Everett does not remember any public service announcement broadcast during the License Term which featured a specific Miami location or a recognizable Miami personality other than a PSA involving Miami Dolphin player John Offerdahl.

5. During the renewal period, Joy was a program that featured interviews as well as segments of music and cooking. Interviews would be the largest portion of the program. There were generally two interviews in each program. Some interviews would not deal with community issues.

6. The 700 Club was not a production of the Trinity Broadcasting Network. That program did not run during the entire renewal period - it started airing at some point during the renewal period. Towards the end of the renewal period, the program included interviews, music, and a news-type segment (which was added sometime later in the license term).

7. Twice a year during the renewal period, TBN preempted all regularly scheduled programming on WHFT(TV) for its "Praise-A-Thon" fund raising telethon. Each telethon lasted one week. There was one telethon in the spring and one in the fall.

8. Praise The Lord was a program produced by Trinity Broadcasting Network. The program was broadcast live Monday through Friday and a taped program was broadcast on Sunday evening. The length of each program varied between two and three hours. While the program was most often broadcast from TBN headquarters, the program would sometimes be broadcast from a church or other remote location.

9. The format of Praise The Lord included interviews, music and preaching. The majority of guests were ministry guests, but there was also a broad spectrum of guests from the community. Ministry guests often discussed the problems and issues of the community. There was an average of three interview segments per program. Although Mr. Everett does not remember a Praise The Lord show on which a community issue was not discussed at some point, the amount of discussion of community issues varied from program to program. While as noted in the Quarterly Reports, Praise The Lord would deal with issues of importance to the Miami community, not all discussions of community issues on that program would discuss issues ascertained to be of importance to the WHFT(TV) service area.

STIPULATION - TESTIMONY OF TERESA ROBIN DOWNING

Trinity Broadcasting of Florida, Inc. (TBF) and Glendale Broadcasting Company now stipulate that if Teresa Robin Downing were called to testify, she would testify as follows:

1. For each ascertainment source, each mention of an issue would be tabulated on a sheet listing a variety of issues. The total number of mentions of each issue from each source would be calculated. The issue with the greatest number of total mentions would be considered the most important issue, the issue with the second greatest number of total mentions would be the second most important issue, and so on. Each mention of an issue would be of equal importance in the tabulations, except that if two issues had the same number of total mentions, the issue that was mentioned more frequently in the community leader ascertainments would be considered the more important issue. During the time Ms. Downing was Public Affairs Director, the station was looking for the five issues of greatest importance, although a sixth issue might sometimes be included.

2. Every quarter, the Public Affairs Director would prepare a quarterly report listing the issues that were ascertained to be the most important issues facing the WHFT(TV) service area, and the programming that was responsive to those issues. The first page lists the issues ascertained
